FRARY HOUSE
Old Street, Deerfield
Franklin County, Massachusetts

Samson Frary cultivated land here in 1664-1670. He may have built the north end of the house as early as 1683. The oldest in Franklin County, it was owned by the Frarye until 1752, when it was bought by a Mr. Barnard, who added the south part and used the whole as a tavern.

Benedict Arnold came to the inn on May 6, 1775, to recruit men and provisions to attack Fort Ticonderoga.
